In the first Case it was stipulated that Major Fonlhes shd get no increase to his emoluments when he gets his rank made in British India - Now it is proposed that his emoluments shd increase on his being promoted Lt Colonel. H.E. does not seem to have been consulted on this occasion - In Mrs Campells letter &c, before Major Fonlhes, it was later on it was stated that ~~to~~ fluctuation in pay should be allowed but how or why this was not put in was not clear. It however was stated that there was due to misunderstanding Major Fonlhes' letter. However that may be the Agents a very large allce and add'l valuable concessions in the shape of free furnished houses &c. It was perhaps in consideration of these facts that fluctuations were not allowed. However now that the Residency have allowed it on own own asking there is no use in discussing the Case further - The Address may be Communicated -
